The National Sexual Violence Resource Center is pleased to provide this letter of enthusiastic support for On the Job and Off's "The C.A.R.E.S Project" The mission of The C.A.R.E.S. Project is to train 30,000 first responders nationwide to recognize the signs of child abuse, neglect and trafficking and understand the reporting process.

The National Sexual Violence Resource Center (NSVRC), founded by the Pennsylvania Coalition against Rape (PCAR) in 2000, is a comprehensive collection and distribution center for information, statistics, and resources related to sexual violence. NSVRC identifies, develops and disseminates resources regarding all aspects of sexual violence prevention and intervention. Since 2008, the NSVRC has focused on building the capacity to provide online learning tools for the anti-sexual violence field.

We are confident in the approach On the Job and Off has developed for this initiative and they are uniquely positioned to offer this educational curriculum. We are happy to support them in this effort and are proud to be a part of The C.A.R.E.S. Project.

Sincerely,

Yolanda Edrington, COO
